Lahore: Health Department teams have provided medical treatment to 178,000 people in the flood-hit areas of the Punjab.

"On the instructions of Chief Minister Shahbaz Sharif, medical teams of the Health Department have been providing treatment facilities to the people of flood-affected areas and up till now 178,000 patients have been treated," a Health Department spokesman said.

He said that 264 union councils in 18 districts had been affected by the floods, and 312 stationary teams and 142 mobile medical teams were providing medical treatment to people there. "These teams have saved the lives of 106 snake-bite patients by administering antivenom injections," he added.

They were taken to a hospital, from where 10 people were discharged later. Chief Minister Shahbaz Sharif has sought a report on the incident in 24 hours.
	Police said the guests were served milk at a wedding in a village near the city. They said the bridegroom, Muhammad Iqbal, the bride, Shahida Bibi, and their families also drank from it. In less than an hour, some of them had started vomiting. Thirty-two of the people were taken to district headquarters (DHQ) hospital by Rescue. Ten of them were discharged from the hospital after a few hours. The rest were said to be in critical condition.

Polio team fired at in Gadap, attacker held Dawn, August 22 2013	Karachi: It was a nightmare at noon for over 30 female vaccinators who were to inoculate children with booster drops against polio in a Gadap town locality when they were forced to run for their lives after a sudden attack by six armed men, officials said.
	The vaccinators took shelter in a nearby school as policemen guarding them returned fire and managed to catch one of the attackers, they said.
	The anti-polio drive - started across the province last - weekend often runs into snags in Gadap area where most violent attacks on polio teams have been reported.
	Officials said some 20 polio teams, comprising over 30 women vaccinators along with a few male volunteers, had to stay idle for two days because of lack of police security.
	After finally getting police security on Wednesday, they gathered to cover children in the areas falling in the jurisdiction of Gulshan-i-Maimar police station.
	"The teams gathered at a meeting point near Noor Mohammad Brohi Goth after covering some neighbourhoods when six armed men on three motorcycles appeared at the corner of the street and opened fire on our teams," said Dr Shakoor Abbasi, town health officer of Gadap, while speaking to Dawn.

He said the attack shocked the teams, women in particular, who ran for their lives and took shelter in a nearby school. "A young woman fell while running on the potholed street and bruised her legs," said Dr Abbasi.

A survivor said she had little hope to survive. "The way they were firing at us I had little hope to survive this time round. Thank God, police guards were there to protect us," she said.

An official at the Gulshan-i-Maimar police station said the police officials who had been deputed to guard the polio teams quickly hit back at the attackers.

"After exchange of gunfire, five gunmen escaped, however, one of their accomplices slipped down from the motorcycle's pillion and was arrested," said the police official.

"As we hunkered down in the school's ground to escape the gunfire outside I was praying for everyone's safety," said another vaccinator.

Police identified the arrested man as Mir Waiz Ahmedzai, an Afghan refugee, and claimed that he belonged to the banned Tehreek-i-Taliban Pakistan.Police said they had recovered a hand grenade, a TT pistol and five bullets from his possession.

It was the second violent attack on vaccinators since April 16 when two female siblings had been attacked in a similar manner in Baldia Town's sector 8. Police had arrested the lone attacker. In an attack in Gadap town on Dec 17, a young volunteer associated with the anti-polio campaign was shot dead in the third such attack in the area on polio workers last year, stopping the three-day anti-polio campaign in the most volatile union council-4.

In July 2012, a local paramedic associated with polio vaccination was shot dead and a doctor working for the World Health Organisation, Fosten Dido, from Ghana and his driver were wounded in two separate attacks in the Sohrab Goth area.Despite attacks on their lives, polio workers, who belong to very poor families, do not even give it an afterthought to quit the increasingly risky job as Rs250 a day is a prized money for them.

"I can't quit the job. The money it offers is quite a help for my family," said a polio worker who survived a similar attack in the past.

Rawalpindi: The allied hospitals of the city, including the Holy Family Hospital (HFH), Benazir Bhutto Hospital (BBH) and District Headquarters Hospital, have this year registered 1,203 measles cases and 95 suspected dengue fever cases, out of which 16 patients died.

According to details, one dengue and 12 measles patients have died at HFH and three measles patients at BBH since January this year.

Talking to APP, HFH Deputy Medical Superintendent Dr Javed Hayat said that as many as 659 measles patients had so far been brought to the HFH, 381 to BBH and 163 to DHH.

The patients were provided complete medical assistance and were discharged afterwards, he added.

Commenting on dengue patients, he said 93 suspected dengue fever patients were brought to the HFH and two to the BBH during the last eight months, which was a "considerably low number" compared to the last year.

Only three dengue patients were under treatment in the HFH, he added.

He said in 2011, around 2,600 patients visited the hospitals with dengue symptoms and 783 were provided treatment, whereas in 2012 more than 200 suspected dengue patients visited the allied hospitals.

He said the allied hospitals were fully capable of meeting any situation arising from the seasonal disease outbreaks, adding that the inflow of dengue and measles patients would end in mid October when the weather conditions change.

He said the situation is under control and there is no threat of dengue or measles outbreak due to the effective strategy adopted by the government.

Lahore: Over 64,000 hospitals and clinics are unregistered in Punjab and there is no check on them whether they are providing up to the mark healthcare or not, health sources disclosed.Sources said that after establishment of the Punjab Healthcare Commission in 2010, around 250 hospitals and clinics had been registered after an inspection to see if they meet the standard of healthcare set by the Pakistan Medical and Dental Council (PMDC).

The sources further said that public sector hospitals offered resistance at the time of inspection by teams of the Healthcare Commission while private hospitals and clinics were cooperating. According to statistics provided by the Pakistan Medical Association, over 600,000 quacks are working in the country while 200,000 quacks are in Punjab, including 40,000 in Lahore. Whereas 53,000 qualified doctors are in Punjab.

It was also learnt that hefty fees of doctors at private clinics was also one of the major reasons for the growth of quacks in the country. After the 18th Amendment in the Constitution of Pakistan, the city district governments are authorised to take action against quacks, the sources added.

When contacted, Punjab Healthcare.Commission (PHC) Chief Executive Dr Ajmal said that the commission only had power to order sealing of the clinics of quacks while DCOs and EDOs were responsible for the implementation of the orders.He said the Healthcare Commission Punjab (HCP) had formulated a strategy to eradicate quackery and had written a letter to the health secretary to take action against the rising threat of quackery.

Parents urged to ensure vaccination of children: Eradication of polio is possible if society, especially parents, take it seriously and cooperate with polio teams, said speakers at a seminar on Sunday.The seminar was organised by `Save the Deserving Children' in collaboration with COMNET, Citizen Forum, Anjuman- e-Shahreyan, Sadiq Welfare Society at Saint Easter Memorial Church, Liaquatabad.

Social activists, representatives of NGOs and other dignitaries, including Samoel Azeem Sindhu, Malik Faqir Hussain, M Muzaffar, Wazir Anwar, Mian Abdul Majid Kasuri and Chaudhry M Maqbool spoke on the occasion.

They said that a little negligence on part of the parents could render their children handicapped. They said that if a single person in the family was handicapped the whole family would have to face its negative impact and disturbance. The speakers also praised the efforts of the government and international organisations working for polio eradication and said that public should respond to the efforts positively.

Shaikh Zaid Hospital (SZH), hospital sources said.According to sources, the Liver Transplantation Unit at the Kidney Center of the SZH lacks facilities, including unavailability of its own operation theatres, ward, ICU and medical officers for the backup treatment of patients.

It is learnt from experts that lack of facilities and sharing of operation theatres of the Urology Department might infect patients.Currently, the doctors at the unit are sharing the operation theatre with the urology and cardiac departments. The patients who got infection included Rehana (25), Yaqoob (26) Shakir (40) and Qamaruddin Mazari (50) and the donors included Kazim and Talawat.

A renowned Indian liver surgeon, Prof Sabash Gupta, on his visit to the unit at the SZH had advised the doctors to set up separate operation theatres at some distance from the Urology Department to avoid infection. However, officials of the Health Department during their many visits to the Liver Transplantation Unit made commitments to provide all facilities and equipment to the unit, but did not fulfil their pledges.

The unit is in a dire need of a 50-bed ward, a 7-bed ICU and two operation theatres.SZH Chief Executive Prof Zafar Iqbal, while commenting on the situation, said that liver transplant operation normally takes 24 hours, therefore, the problem might have been related to sterilisation rather than the sharing of operation theatres. He also hinted at the lack of funding as the reason for not separating the Liver Transplant Unit.

Patients and their attendants have made a fervent appeal to high-ups of the Health Department to look into the situation.

Peshawar: A three day anti-polio drive began here and seven other districts of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa on Monday.

The drive aims to administer polio drops to 2.5 million children while foolproof security would be provided to teams.

The anti-polio drive had been suspended during the by-elections but has now been resumed in Peshawar, Charsadda, Mardan, Swabi, Nowshera, Tank, Hangu and Lakki Marwat.

Islamabad:Public resources allocated for health sector in general and mother, newborn, and child health (MNCH) in particular are not only woefully low but are often spent in a manner that disproportionately benefits the rich relative to the poor.

This feature of healthcare finance in Pakistan puts many households, especially those belonging to marginalized groups, into a vulnerable situation. A study in the area of MNCH has highlighted that the public spending on health as percentage of GDP has never exceeded 0.7 per cent and this proportion has been dwindling over time.

The study launched on Monday has been conducted by Dr Sadia Malik and funded by Maternal, Newborn and Child Health Programme, Research and Advocacy Fund (RAF). Sadia Mariam Malik holds a PhD in economics and is currently assistant professor at York University, Canada. She is also vice-president of Centre for Research on Economic and Social Transformation (CREST), Pakistan.

According to research, although poverty reduction has been an overarching goal of successive governments in Pakistan, public contribution in health financing remains extremely limited: around 72 per cent of the total health expenditure is financed by private sources out of which 92 per cent are out of pocket expenses.

This feature of healthcare finance in Pakistan puts many households, especially those belonging to marginalized groups, into a vulnerable situation. A sudden illness, accident or medical emergency can push many households - especially those who do not have any assets to fall back upon - below the poverty line.

Existing allocations within hospital care shows less than 0.1 per cent is currently being allocated for MNCH related services. Ironically, even this meagre spending is not effectively targeted towards the poor.

Using the latest Pakistan Standard of Living Measurements Survey (PSLM), Dr Malik in her study shows that the current distribution of utilization of some publicly provided MNCH related services especially those that are hospital based such as institutional maternal delivery and post-natal care is skewed in favour of higher income groups.

In contrast, the utilisation of services that fall within the purview of basic health services such as immunisation, and prenatal consultation (through basic facilities such as LHW and LHV) are relatively more equitably distributed. The distribution of the usage of basic health units (BHUs) is found to be pro-poor.

At the provincial level, the study finds that the extent of inequality in the distribution of public health services utilisation is higher in Balochistan with benefits from most services captured by the rich rather than the poor. This could be due to poor governance in terms of public service delivery in the province or due to the deteriorating law and order situation as well as sparse availability of public health services due to which poor people, especially those who live in remote areas, are not able to bear access costs related to transportation.

The study recommends that the government needs to invest more in basic health services such as immunisation and other services provided through BHUs as well as trained midwives, LHVs and LHWs. Secondly, the study urges the government to address the imbalance against MNCH within hospital-based services and effectively target hospital-based services towards the poor. In terms of regional allocation of health sector budget, the study recommends more resources be allocated towards regions that have poor health indicators and where the ability to pay for health care is low.

Integrating MNCH related programmes with income support programmes can potentially increase the effectiveness of all programmes involved. Such integrated programmes are effectively run in developed countries like the United States through basic and primary health care units, it says.

The report was launched by Prof Ahsan Iqbal, Federal Minister for Planning, Development and Reforms. He highlighted that Pakistan is facing serious nutritional challenge; 10-20 per cent learning deficiency in children results from lack of adequate nutrition to mothers in prebirth stage.

Reiterating the significance of human resources he said that through inappropriate allocation of resources, previous governments, have made poor more vulnerable. Every military regime has shifted allocation from civilian expenditure, meant for health and education, to military expenditures. In a democratic regime the representatives are accountable to their constituencies, hence they focus on delivering social services in their areas.

On the occasion Sarah Hall of Research and Advocacy Fund (RAF) indicated that the study reveals a number of inefficiencies and inequities in existing allocations of healthcare budget in Pakistan. Mothers and children are highly vulnerable segments of the population both in terms of socio-economic empowerment as well as health status.

	Maternal and perinatal conditions are one of the leading causes of mortality in Pakistan. However, inter-sectoral allocation of healthcare budget shows that less than 0.2 per cent of the total budget on health is allocated to treat these conditions. A major chunk of the budget is spent on specialised hospital and curative care (71.75 per cent), the benefits of which are neither captured adequately by mothers and children nor by the poor
